

Emily Walters

Mrs. Dewey

History, Period 2A

8 January 2016

Mount Fuji

Mount Fuji is a wonderful landmark. This volcano stands at 12,380 feet. In 1770 the volcano erupted and volcanic ash fell on Tokyo, 62 miles away. Mount Fuji is sacred to the indigenous people of Japan. About 200,000 people climb Mount Fuji every year. People usually begin their journey at night to see the sunrise in the morning. Japan's nickname is "Land of the Rising Sun".

Link to my Adobe Voice:

<https://voice.adobe.com/a/1Qzr9>